

SERENO WATSON,
Curator.

HERBARIUM OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY, BOTANIC GARDEN, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

June 14th 1890

My dear P. S. Barnes,

I thank you for your frank criticism of the Manual and I believe that you are entirely right.

I could see in the process of amplifying Leavenworth's Man. for the press that the book was very faulty, so much so that I would not allow my name to appear on the title page, as he urged me to do.

From my knowledge of the book acquired in the course of my it through the press, my opinion of it has ^{been} more ^{or} less impressing depended to much upon Schimper & followed him too servilely, and it was widely thought he had little capacity for systematic arrangement or any clear definition. He was too busy of men, and I have no doubt an excellent boy-dogist, but he was not fitted to write a text book. This, as you say, has yet to be done, but I hoped that in the mean time this ^{business} might be made in some way a more serviceable undershift.

I know no one more capable than yourself to do what is needed and I hope that the time will come you will be able to give yourself to it.

Yrs. very truly
Alfred Russel Wallace